MEMOIR OF THE BARROW FAMILY

by
John J. Barrow
(Father of Mrs. D. I. Norwood)

Mrs Chapman - Please return this to me, after reading and taking such notes as you wish -
J. Barrow

In recording what I have learned of my Father and Mother's families I hope I will not be charged with undue vanity or family pride by my children for it really is written for them - While I believe in pride of family not for the name but for the good qualities of my fore-fathers - and to inculcate into each generation each individual member in the descent the pride that engenders individual exertion to maintain the highest standing among his or her fellow beings and by individual exertion elevate the family name - From O. N. Barrow of Danville Virginia I by correspondence and conversation learned that he has a record handed down by his ancestors and it shows that in the year 1630 two boys of our name appeared in Va. and doubtless ran away from home in England - with adventurous intent and likely found it - One of them went North, of him I learned nothing, the other Thomas settled in Southampton on the Notaway river. He there lived and at his death was over ninety years of age having three sons Thomas, Simon and John - all men of high standing. Second Thomas moved to Edcombe Co., North Carolina and lived with his wife Elizabeth Atkins. They left four children Jacob, James, Moses and Sarah. My great-grandfather William B. left records to show that in July 8, 1760 he married Olivia Ruffin of South Carolina and during the revolution he being crippled - moved to Tarborro - Edcombe Co., N. Carolina where he died leaving his widow Olivia Ruffin Barrow with four sons and two daughters. His moving back to Edcombe Co., N. C. - indicates that he William Barrow must have descended from one of the three sons of Thomas Barrow the second who moved from Virginia again. We have letters from Thomas Barrow, son of Jacob and Emily Barrow to my grand-father also William B. on business and addressed as cousin there seems to have been some disagreement between them. I suppose property questions - Thomas B. having bought my grand-mother's estate in Halifax - but both acknowledged relationship in their letters. Also an old negro Manerva - now living and very old says she was the slave of Jacob Barrow and his wife Emily. When Jacob B. died Manerva was very young and sent of this widow Emily and only son Thomas B. and one daughter Paraby and she often visited my grand-father and mother as near and dear relation having named the only daughter after my grandmother. They all seem to have been wealthy in land and slaves. This about all the evidence that I have found for believing that we are directly descended from the two runaways - why they ran away from England we have no evidence, if for crime they left their errors behind and grew to men of standing having a large descent and as far as I know all maintained the name with pride and honor - From our own records I now will continue the 1st William Barrow married Olivia Ruffin July 8th, 1760. He died in Edgecombe Co. N. C. where he lived January 27th, 1777 - leaving his wife Olivia R. Barrow with four sons and two daughters - She moved to Louisiana with her second son William Barrow in 1800 and died (in the house that I now own and live in) April 2nd, 1803 as attested by tombstone in the family graveyard on Highland Plantation. Their 1st son Robert Barrow married Mary Haynes in North Carolina. They moved to West Feliciana and both died without children. He died in May 29th, 1815 and is buried by the side of his mother Olivia R. B.

x He died 1787
JAB

Second son William Barrow married Pharaby Hilliard in Halifax Co. N. C. June 26th, 1792 - and in 1800 moved to Louisiana then belonging to Spain and settled on the little Bayou Sara and opened the Highland Plantation built the house I now live in - He died in Washington City Nov. 19th, 1823 having gone there to place his youngest son at school - In 1835 my father bought his Father's remains from Washington City and buried them in the family graveyard by the side of his wife, as attested by his tomb - He left his wife with three sons and three daughters - His wife Pharaby Hilliard Barrow died here Oct. 10th, 1827 - Their children are:

1. Robert Barrow - married Eliza Perry
2. Ann Barrow - married 1st Robert Benoist, second Dr. John King
3. Wm. Ruffin Barrow married Olivia Ruffin Barrow
4. Martha H. Barrow - married Daniel Turnbull
- Bennet Hilliard Barrow - married 1st Emily Joor, and second Mrs Haile (sister)
6. Eliza Barrow - married Wm. H. Barrow

MEMOIR OF THE BARROW FAMILY

I do not know anything about _____ grand-father.

My grand-mother, Pa's mother Olivia Ruffin lived near Tarboro I believe, she was a widow during the Revolution, and lost a great deal of property. Pa then had to go to South Carolina, was Sheriff there, made considerable, returned to North Carolina and married my mother who lived on the Roanoke, she was very rich at the time of her marriage and they sold all her lands and gradually moved to this country, they remained some time in Nashville, where sister was born, then came to Natchez, remained some time, brother Ruffin was born there, they could not come into La. until after permission from the Spanish was granted - then they came down where John now lives, lived in a shanty until the house now occupied by John was built. Pa's mother moved with them to this country, died at the Penrice place where she lived - and I do not know _____ was buried at Penrice in _____ old graveyard.

Pa's father was an Englishman - do not know where he married.
